Surabaya, East Java, Indonesia

Summary

I am a fourth-Semester student majoring in Informatics Engineering with a Bachelor's program in Information Technology Education. I possess strong teamwork skills and have a keen interest in UI/UX Design and Data Analysis. I am always motivated to try new things, think critically and creatively. Additionally, I actively participate in committees within organizations, particularly in the field of public relations. My greatest desire is to develop my skills and expertise in these areas, especially in UI/UX Design and Data Analysis.
